CalRecycle Grant manager: Dana Stokes

Project Summary: The Amador County Integrated Waste Management Regional Agency, which includes the County of Amador and the cities of: Jackson, Lone, Plymouth, Sutter Creek, and Amador City, will work as a region to address the ever growing amount of universal waste (u-waste) that continues to severely impact our county. The first activity will be a stakeholder workshop to plan, strategize, and develop methods to address u-waste materials. Interested and affected parties will be invited to the workshop and may include: local government agencies, waste haulers, recyclers, and local non-profit community groups, regulatory entities (CUPA's, LEA's) representatives from local retail establishments, and other interested parties. Some goals and objectives of the workshop will be an analysis of the needs, cost estimates, and best locations for upgraded and new facilities, and collection and processing equipment for u-waste. Also, needs for additional u-waste staffing and training will be considered. The second activity will be the development of coordinated countywide publicity and public education approaches on u-waste. Included will be the revision of existing household/Certified Exempt Small Quantity Generator (CESQG) public education brochures, posters and advertising artwork to include u-waste information.
